

THE RAGING BULL

Season 2009 - Round 16

Karingal vs Bonbeach (Away)

LUKE ADAMS FUNDRAISER

The Karingal Football Club invites you to our Clubrooms on Saturday August 8th to help raise money to assist Luke Adams with his long recovery.

The incident is going to impact on Luke's financial situation substantially, and as a member of the Karingal FC, we all need to band together to support one of the competitions true young guns.

The night will include auctions, raffles, games and a few drinks, with all proceeds going to Luke to help get him back playing footy in 2010. Entry is free, and will kick off at 6pm.

We look forward to seeing you all there. Karingal FC.

Seniors – 5th

Karingal 9 16 70

Mt Eliza 19 12 126

Goal Kickers: D. Hirst 4, J. Smith , A. Jack , N. Shaw , M. Burke , A. Osborne

Best Players: D. Hirst, G. Goodall, D. Proud, J. Martinson, B. Dunne, T. Farrelly

Coaches Report:

We had a promising start playing into a stiff breeze in the first quarter. We were full of run and the pressure we applied to Mt Eliza was excellent. As a result of the hard running and pressure, we had the ball moving into our forward line often however we failed to capitalize on our opportunities in front of goals and once again allowed the opposition to keep in touch early in the game. Despite our level of effort and breaking even in a couple of quarters Mt Eliza was able to stamp their authority on the game. They ran hard, kicked goals and had an even spread of contributors over 4 quarters which makes it very difficult to combat against. As I mentioned last week, I think it is great that we are playing against the top sides at the moment with BonBeach being another huge challenge for our group. They gave us a touch up earlier in the year and have been playing outstanding football. No doubt we are running out of time and opportunities to show that we are capable of playing in this year's final series but I certainly have not given up. I am most interested in which Karingal players are brave enough to put their hands up and say 'follow me boys' and lead us to a great and from the outside an unexpected win under adversity this week. Our backs are to the wall – so who is going to show the passion, spirit and desperation that is associated with being part of a RUTHLESS UNTIED and HARD team? Pecko

Reserves – 8th

Mt Eliza 11 7 73

Goal Kickers: S. Duffield 3, A. Wright , M. Jones

Best Players: B. Duffield, P. Monaghan, S. Duffield, T. Burgdorf, M. Lindley, R. Hoad

Coaches Report:

Although we were not able to come away with the 4 points today we were pleased with the effort and commitment of our group. After been given a lesson the week before by the top side in Edithvale, it was a big challenge to come up against Mt Eliza who beat us by 20 goals earlier in the year. We had the majority of the play in the first quarter and still went into the quarter time break down by 2 goals. Going into the wind we thought this was a serviceable result. In the second quarter we just thought it was going to happen and it never did. So we weren't able to capitalise on the wind. To the guys credit they fought out the last half. We even had a couple of chances to really get back in the game in the third quarter, but couldn't capitalise. Our effort and commitment is there we just need to focus on our delivery into the forward line and keep working the ball until we get a shot at goal in an area where we are likely to kick it from. To many times we take shots from too far out or impossible snaps instead of doing the team thing. It reflects in our score line every week. This week we head to Bonbeach in a crunch game. They gave us a touch up earlier in the year, but we have the opportunity to knock them out of the finals this week. Tugga

LAST WORD

- $5000 Draw – Please see player / committee for your tickets – Only 2 weeks to go.
- It's the first time & CONGRATS goes out to Bryce Kellerman who tomorrow will step out for the BULLS 1st Senior game – this gives the BULLS their first 3rd generation player with Father Brett & Grandfather Adrian previously representing the club. Best of Luck to Bryce – make your own History.
- Congratulations to Callan Dixon & Jason Bedford who both represented Frankston High School last Sunday at the MCG – the boys were successful by nearly 5 goals over a strong Ballarat team and both handled themselves well. An experience that not many get was enjoyed by 2 up and coming BULLS.
- Having a quiet beer last night after training and the talk amongst the boys turned to 'favourite movies'. Everyone started reeling off their all time classics when Pencil chips in – ' Hey boys, Ive got a ripper! Whats that movie? You know, that one with the weddings, all those weddings? That one where those two blokes go to all those weddings, they crash weddings all the time, you know the one....' Aahh that would be The Wedding Crashers wouldn't it Pencil? "Yeah yeah, that's the one!" Well done Captain obvious! Of course the store had to be relayed to the bar staff who were wondering what the song and dance was about.. Nails comes to the fore here by excitedly announcing ½ way thru The story that " You mean Wedding Crashers?" Yep Nails that's the one where people crash weddings!!! It wasn't even that late in the night.
- Simmo - the footy clubs favourite little Italian has been up to his old tricks again. Simmo being Simmo has been fighting with Nadine, his 'wife to be', for the last couple of weeks about the Wedding Cake. Most couples would maybe blue about the flavour of the cake, maybe the style, maybe even the size. But not Simmo and his fiancé – this fight is because Simmo doesn't want a cake at all! "Whats the point?" Simmo has been heard saying, "all that happens is you do a fake cut for photo's then you eat the bloody thing, waste of money I say" Tight as a fishes arse is probably what your thinking. But the real shock is that he has organized his brother to drive Nadine to the ceremony, which is great – except for the fact that its going to be in his NPD ute! And you wonder why your missus cracks the sh*ts with you Simmo?!

- Clarkey had to Drive his missus' car to training last Thursday – a nice sporty Subaru WRX. Unfortunately he parked behind someone who had to leave. When the call came out “Whoever is driving the WRX can you please move it”nothing happened. Again “Can someone please move the WRX!!!!!!!!!!”still nothing until Jacko said “Isn't Jess's car a WRX” Brad replied “Oh shit it might be, how am I supposed to know her rego number?????????” Nice on Squashy!!!!!!
- Matty Banfield has been skipping training. The boys thought this was a bit unusual, as Banny's has been a regular at training. Then Timmy received a text message from a source at the local Bingo Centre, confessing that Banny's had been seen shouting legs 11 with his Mum in the main session!
- Nails went down to the local massage parlour to get some work done on his back. The unsuspecting Nails talks off his top, oils himself up, then lays on the massage table ready for some young female to carress his back. Little did he realise that the person giving him a massage was actually a gay male! Well, did this deter Nails? As if, Nails continued to lay there and have his back rubbed. I think Nails even confessed to it feeling quite nice indeed
- Budda Hirst loved his masterChef. So much so that when the finale was on, Budda donned an apron and a little badge with Poh on the front. When Poh lost the final, Budda ripped off his apron, and started crying! Come on Budda, its only a TV show!
- The boys were having a chat, and Pecko was telling the boys he had sore calves, sore quads, sore hammys, sore back, and in general was just sore. One of the younger lads quipped ‘Pecko, so what actually still works on you fossil?’ To which Pecko replied ‘my sperm’ – pointing to his army of kids
- BULLS Photos – Liz Lewis from the Junior Club has provided us with some new photos of the Boys – If anyone out there has photos of Karingal FC could they please email to secretary@karingalfc.com so we can start a database for future generations plus display proudly on our website and face book pages. GO BULLS
- From Digger (who is clearly kidding himself) Finally – No excuses – If the Blues win tonight – Wally, BR & Kellerman Family should not attend tomorrow's game – If the Blues lose – It was to be expected – where rebuilding and Don't like the bright lights on Friday Nights!!! Saints – Here come the injuries – There's always next year – LOL!!!! (we can afford to rest players when the competition exists of ordinary teams like Carlton)
- Been awhile but here are some lookalikes!
