

THE RAGING BULL Season 2007 - Vol. 1

Round 1

It's a BIG welcome back to all our Players, Supporters and Sponsors for Season 2007. Much has happened over the Summer months and hopefully this will fill you in on the comings and goings of the BULLS as they prepare for battle for Season 2007. Although starting in May (Due to Ground restrictions) the Bulls have been training on their home ground for the last 3 weeks and it can be confirmed that ground is in wonderful shape - inc. new coaches Boxes (Well Done Johnny Matthews, Hutch and others) and the brand new lights will appear on the opposite side of the ground at some stage this year - Council pending! Progression. On the ground former Karingal junior and 250+ Game Veteran at St Kilda FC - Justin Peckett - has taken the reigns for the Bulls in Season 2007 - Aply assisted again by Doug Scott. Welcome to Justin and Teresa (and the 5 Kids) and we hope you achieve the success you have been planning and striving for in the off season. Congratulations also goes to Bevan Malloy who has been named Club Captain for Season 2007. The reserves coach this year will be Club stalwart Troy Callahan taking over from Darren Dooley due to Family commitments (more kids news in the Last Word) Under 18s Coach is David Measham with assistant coach Craig Shaw, good to see ex players (premiership no less) putting back into the club - Well Done. Numbers have been good and promising practice match results across the board should allow all Karingal supporters to enter the season with much optimism - GO BULLS.

This year will see the return of Pennisms, AFL Tips & Hits, Player Profiles, The Last Word and Much More so if you have anything to add simply reply to this or forward any email addresses of people you think would enjoy the Weekly Update.

AFL Preview - By Guess Columnist DANG

Round 6 kicks off tonight with the Saints taking on the Whites, what a joke their new clash Guernsey is... having said that, Fevola may bring up his ton by 10:30 tonight in what would be a league record. The withdrawal of Lloyd with a heartstring certainly evens up the clash tomorrow with the Hawks but I think the Bombers just may still have enough to get over the line. West Coke Eagles take on the Doggies in my match of the round, if Kerr stays off the valiums in what would be an astonishing 6 weeks they'll keep on winning. The Kangas are apparently on fire after knocking off the pussycats last week but lets not kid ourselves here, Sydney will smash them. J Brown vs. M Pavlich, he who kicks the most goals, wins. Melbourne are rubbish and should be flogged by a smart Port side whilst Richmond v Geelong could be one of the worst games of the year, I am predicting a nil all draw. PS There is no rundown of Crows vs. Pies for a reason - no-one cares

Club Person of the Week - Pre Season Vote Nominations

These people make a difference;

1. Amanda And Hutch in Corowa - 1st there, last to go - Strapped rubbed and counselled over 30 players and a runner!!

2. Crazy - Corowa Goal Umpire, Regos, BBQs for players - Unbelievable but 1st up winner goes to Robyn Williams (or the nice Robyn as I like to say - Only joking Super ROBYN Burke) for her efforts in co ordinating and distributing the Major raffle tickets to all the players already - not too mention helping Anne Jack and Robyn Burke with the new Wednesday Night meals and donating the 1st prize for the raffle valued at over $2500 - Thank you also to Norm - NORRILL EQUIPMENT.

Special Apologies to anyone who has done something terrific and not been recognized - the greatest charity is anonymous

Pennism

Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back

On Wed Night at the end of Training, Pecko called all the players in and asked them to form a large circle. The 10-12 players holding balls were told to take a step into the circle. It was then explained that these players were going to kick the ball high into the air (the balls will come crashing down into the group) and no players were to flinch, or to look up and had to look the player opposite them directly into their eyes whilst they stood strong - A test of Character I think. Does everyone understand the coach asks? To this Penna replies "so Pecko can we cover up and duck?????" Oh Penna I've missed you.

The Last Word

* Someone's Out - Guess Who? Spotted in Ormond!

* Seems Tony Greig was right when he passed comment on a certain Adelaide wedding a few years ago? How much do you think that cost? Well thanks to modern technology apparently you can choose a Bride, move to her country and become Chief of the Village all for a minimal fee according to a former Karingal employee - yes he was paid.

* PS the above comments were certainly not regarding esteemed Karingal champion and treasurer Jeff Walton. Jeff returns today from a CLUB FUNDED trip that has entailed Rio, New York, Dublin and Thailand . After several phone calls home I'm guessing Jeff will have some great stories to tell - How about we start the ball rolling with Maria in Rio? Great Work Chook. Also cant wait to hear what research the club was paying for on this trip - Bloody Politicians.

* Kids + kids + kids - Holy crap - too many to mention but I think the people in Karingal should maybe invest in a television. Well done to all from the Bulls. Special Mentions to 2 former players 1. Mark and Simone Sargent on the arrival of Tahlia and 2. Tony and Nadine Dennis - A little girl on the way - Now there's no way that your hair will survive hey TD - the tan is a different story! Will bring more to hand as they arrive i.e Dooleys, McLeods, Watts and of course Waltons. Long term survival looking good with Boys to Groves *2, Malloy, Callahan, Johnston & McWilliams.

* Move over Phar Lap - Confidence Reef is nearly ready to run again. Well done to Jenny / Jan Groves for allowing the Reef to live in their house whilst Paul / David have been babying it. Can only win when the Chook is in the country - who would have thought he'd be a Good Luck charm.

* Finally please email addresses back and best of luck to all associated with the Club on the weekend - the Junior Bulls also begin - Ralph is going back to back - Go King.
