ROUND 18

A Mixed bag for the BULLS Supporters who travelled to Bon Beach on Saturday. A beautiful day filled with sunshine greeted the players and staff early Saturday morning but to be honest, the best parts of the day for the Unders have already been mentioned. It was an ordinary performance and some big improvement this week will be required if a victory is to be gained – the less said about the last week the better. Jimmy, Rangi and Josh were the best. The last game is for the Boys to enjoy and to repay all the people who make it possible to get out there each week – also football is about representing yourself to others... Let's show them some character. The Reserves blew it with not enough helping out – they now require some massive results come this week – possible but unfortunately not probable. It must be said though over the year the improvement, comradery and team work has been outstanding – let's make sure we finish off on a positive note for all concerned. You never know in football... Better players including Big Benny Mitchell, Reichy in B& F Form, Barney, Webbo and Horse Shack Osborne with 3 majors. The seniors made hard work of it but eventually steadied in the 2nd half to win by 5 goals... The BULLS had to compete with not so much a flood but more of a Tidal Wave of opposition in our forward 50. These challenges are set to come even bigger over the next few weeks... but before then is This week – which is MUST WIN – A loss could mean curtains – A WIN and nothing else matters. Better players last week included Lukey Van Raay, Lightning Timmy Smith, Michael Burke, Dougy Scott & Luke Adams...Would be fantastic to see a big pro BULLS crowd this week cheering the boys on to the finals. Also remember this week after the Last Home and away game to hang around for a drink ...GO BULLS!!! Some fantastic stories this week, the return of the Pennism and his mate, the Nailism and much much more... Thank you to all for their contributions...

Coaches Report

Firstly, congratulations again to Digger on his 200th game last weekend. It was a great day for the club and no doubt for Daniel and his family. Mick Deaton's pre game speech was a highlight for the year and hopefully the players on the day appreciate the significance of the milestone and have gained a better understanding of what it takes to achieve such an outstanding individual career and the ultimate team success. It was an honour to take part in the day. Having said all that, we did start the game poorly and took a while to get into gear. Bonbeach like to get extra numbers back behind the ball (which we knew they would do) however we continually played into the hands. As a group, we did not listen to instructions and we lacked spark. However, I believe that our mental strength has improved throughout the year and as a result we were able to fight our way into a winning position. When you get off to a poor start, you have 2 choices. One is to accept that it is not your / our day and play accordingly or you decide to work harder, smarter and think team 1st which can have a dramatic effect on our overall performance. Individuals / teams with a strong belief in themselves and each other can, on any day, turn things around very quickly and achieve great results. This is an essential quality to have if we are to be truly respected and successful. Our game against Pines will be another big test of where we are at, both individually and as a team. We do not want to wait until we are challenged before we decide to get going. Always overestimate the opposition and do not look any further ahead than tomorrow. Let's dictate, show initiative and intimidate the opposition by being; HARD, ACCOUNTABLE, SELFLESS & PROUD, from the first bounce, right through to the final siren. Pecko

2nds – 6th Position

Karingal 7. 3 45
Bon Beach 12. 7 89

Goals: A Osborne 3, C Holzer 2, M Lindley & B Groenendyk.

Best: B Mitchell, C Reichmann, R Barnett, D Webster, A Osborne.

Coaches Report

Bitterly disappointing effort from the seconds last week, finals are now virtually out of the picture. When it was time to stand up and be counted as a finals side, too many of us went missing or waited for someone else to take the game by the scruff, which no-one ended up doing. The positives were the form of our two youngest players – Benny Mitchell who has a fair dinkum crack at every contest and Ryan Barnett who showed composure well beyond his years. Maybe a few others need to take a leaf out of these kid's books. Pines this week and to any of the players reading this – have a dip, that's all I ask and all I've ever asked. Pitty

3rds – 9th Position

Karingal 3. 7 25
Bon Beach 20. 12 132

Goals: R Bartlett Quinn, G Rangī - Clark, S Phillips.

Best: J Martinson, G Rangī Clark, J McCoy.

Coaches Report

A very disappointing effort this week by the guys. Jimmy Martinson was one of the only shining lights on the day with his ability to get to each contest and more importantly win his own ball. Something everyone else can learn from! Concentration is the key and we lacked that the whole game. Last game of the year is a must win and we must be switched on from start to finish.

SOCIAL NEWS

FRI 5TH OCTOBER

PRESENTATION NIGHT @ Frankston RSL

The Social Report – The Roving Bull

Firstly, Congratulations to the seniors for not only winning the game against Bonbeach, but for getting Daniel Watts the win in his 200th game. A more inspirational coach/teammate/friend Roving Bull has yet to come across, congrats Dig, let's keep the ball rolling. Commiserations to Pitty's two's, who now need other results to fall their way to see finals action. Onto the social scene we go and it seems a couple of Karingal's 'prettiest' young players were busted in Frankston last week getting ready for a big summer, with the aid of the trusty old solarium! Now as you know Roving Bull doesn't like to name names in his column, so if you'd like the full story please see either Troy "natural tan" Hoad or Ryan "I've been sun baking" Jencke! From all reports the solarium session has already paid off for Troy. Sunday was Troy's birthday and a few pals and gals gathered at his house for a few frothies. One of Roving's spies reported that in between conversations of who's tan is darker, and who's blonde tips look better, the host of the party disappeared into the bedroom with a lovely young lass for a couple of hours! Roving has been told it was just a deep and meaningful conversation but he is not so sure! Either way you are a stallion Hoady! Saturday night saw the NPD boys head into the MCG to watch the Collingwood v Sydney game from the comfort of a corporate box. NP's newest inclusion - Troy Callahan was like a kid in a candy store on the way to the MCG, smashing down 5 bourbons in 50 minutes on his maiden MCG Box adventure. The thought of as much free food and any alcoholic beverages was nearly too much for Troy to handle as he sat in the back seat salivating! Now I know records are meant to be broken but have a go at this for a quiet feed - 4 bowls of Cous cous, 3 bowls of duck meat and rice, 5 mini salad rolls, 13 mini sausage rolls, 16 mini party pies, 18 scones and 23 glasses of bourbon and coke! The new nickname of Three Fitty Pitty will be in relation to Kilograms if you keep that form up big boy! PS He also wanted to stop for Macca's on the way back but fell asleep halfway home! TRB

CLUB PERSONS OF THE WEEK

The Runners

3 very different people, personalities and sexual preferences but still much Loved and now we thank them.

Under 18 Runner Simon Drago is a former player and under 18 premiership alumni – Simmo gets the job done early week in and out with his wonder shoes powering him all the way with Wishas wisdoms.

Reserves Runner Dale Chubb a former player and champion umpire is Pittys lapdog in the 2s. Dale is a more methodical and calculated runner – but definitely one of the cheekiest – orange that is. See last word for his latest escapade.

The Senior runner is a celebrated man who works for a fine company that has, over the years produced many a Karingal champion, his trademark is the skins that keep the Trojan legs afloat. Joel Stevenson we salute you.

We pay tribute to our runners – Gods amongst men – Thanks Boys

PENNISM

Penna couldn't escape the year without providing a little light entertainment post match at Bon Beach. After victory all the boys headed up stairs where Penna decided he would try a potato cake to tie himself over... But the potato cake was far too hot which lead Penna to comment to the boys "Aaahhh nothing cools a good potato cake like hanging it out the window whilst you're driving..." Another fine cuisine tip from the great man...

This week though Penna is being challenged by another which leads to our new section called

NAILISM

Background: A Catholic school teacher who runs the football club bar – much admired for his work ethic and honesty but this week we bust wide open the life and times of Eric “ Liquid Nails” Glavanic or from now on Historical Penna.

Eric has been known to have some teeth problems along the way but without doubt the following 2 stories may highlight teeth being the least of his concerns...

1. About just over 12 months ago, Eric walked into a door, as you do but unfortunately he shattered a tooth and had to see the dentist to get it repaired. After having it repaired and paying the $5500 bill Eric realized something he'd known all along. He's been paying Private health insurance for the last 10 years and had forgotten to claim... Also unfortunately though you can only claim within 12 months of the operation– oops Number 1
 2. Recently Eric received an abscess in his tooth which was causing him significant pain and anguish... in fact his face was badly swollen but he still soldiered on in his club duties – WELL DONE. Back to the dentist he went and out came a tooth... on closer inspection at home later that evening with his tongue Eric realized the pain hadn't subsided... The wrong tooth had in fact been pulled and back to the dentist he went. The moral of this story is when the dentist asks which tooth hurts more information than the one at the back is required. Great Work Nails –oops Number 2

THANK YOU

Last week was very special to me and I would like to try and THANK all the people who helped make it so;

Banner – Thank you to Pecko for Organizing, The St Kilda FC Cheer Squad who made it and helped hold it up and all the people who got it transported to and from – Heard it took some massive efforts. Thank you to Paul Groves for organizing Mick Deaton, my first senior coach and like all young players coming through our HERO from Karingal FC. I think anyone who was in the room would now understand why everyone who played under Deats is very passionate about Karingal FC and life and in fact the way they hold Mick. I think the things he said will be with me for ever and I was absolutely privileged that he was able to be there. I wish to Thank all the people who sent me text messages, called me, emailed – all very much appreciated. Thank you to everyone who came up to the RSL for a Beer etc Saturday night also...It was great to catch up with many friends and enjoy the moment.

Overall... I have been very lucky at Karingal FC to have great friends all the way like Wally, Lamby (who deserves more recognition for his efforts) Max, Hutch, Gothards, Spences, Groves and so on who I respect very much. Also I hope anyone who did anything for me over the years realizes how much I have appreciated it, Karingal FC is to me – My FAMILY. PS It will be very hard to explain to my daughter Ella this week we won't be running through a banner as she loved it – maybe Mummy could do that for me!!! THANK YOU.

JUNIOR BULLS

The Karingal Bulls under 12's were out gunned on Sunday in their 2nd semi final against a slick undefeated Seaford. Coming out of the gates well we kicked the first two goals of the game and looked to be in control early. Seaford's big men started to get on top though and our early lead was slipped away. We eventually went down by 56 points although the margin did not reflect how competitive we were. Best players were Ryan Barca, Beau Lawrence, Chris Matthews and Uther Mottershead. This week we come up against Carrum/Patterson Lakes who we beat in the last home and away game by 53 points. If we keep our heads up and are prepared to work hard we are definitely capable doing the same again. Our big guys need to get to every marking contest and be prepared take one for the team. Then it's up to the runners to do the crumbing and hit targets, which we didn't do last week. The game is at Langwarrin on Oval 2 at 12:30pm on Sunday - Please get down in your red and white and support the future of the club, Both the kids and their families come and support the seniors on a Saturday.

Go little BULLS

THE LAST WORD

- AFL – Lets get straight into it – Last week a certain Cats supporter was overheard commenting that he was producing “Back to Back” T Shirts in anticipation... Last word must officially apologize to Brett Kellerman in advance for years of underestimating your football knowledge, because if the Cats DO lose this week you’ll be able to put those shirts to use right away!!! Also this week the only way you will be able to tell if the Blues are tanking is if the whole forward line is still playing Pagans Paddock but Cain Ackland is 1 out in the goal square...Making it impossible for the Blues to score. Hopefully that Brings a rye smile to the struggling Saints supporters out there who haven’t be texting too much lately!!!
- The Yellow and Black Army spoiled the party last week and are marching on triumphantly – to where – nobody but Michael “Ray Hall” Burke knows!!! The Karingal Tigers partied hard too – so hard in fact that Ray used his shirt for a landing pad for the refuse from his mouth... Although at this stage he’s trying to blame Kate Hirst’s driving – For Gods sake Ray she’s 9 months pregnant driving all you galahs home at 11pm on a Sunday night – give her a break. On getting home Ray thought out his best plan to not show the better half the damage – so he ripped his shirt off and threw it into the shrubs and went inside... Is there any obstacle Ray can not overcome?
- Seems Sunday Night was a bottler for another Champion Bull, Ralph Hallal. After making the trip to Taylors Lakes to attend his cousin Eddies (yes like in the movie vacation) Wedding it seems Ralph partied way too hard... Let’s do this one Memento style – backwards to forwards. 1. Lisa (His Wife) is not talking to Ralph leading him to getting his meal at the Club Thursday Night. 2. He gets his cousins car detailed. 3. Wakes up in a doorway in Pascoe vale with just his underpants on and a horrific taste in his mouth. Freezing cold with no recollection whatsoever of what has happened. 4. He is urinating in only his underpants off the Bolte Bridge whilst spewing at the same time. 5. He is having all his clothes removed whilst being rolled out of a car. 6. He is spewing profusely all over the inside of his cousins moving car on the freeway with the car full. 7. Lisa had driven off at the reception place in horror and disgust and left him to fend for himself 8. Ralph is abusing fellow family members for no apparent reason – this is racist my friend. 9. Ralph is in a drinking game at the reception with fond memories of his own wedding and I quote “ Mate I’ll drink anyone under the table on straight Ouzo, I’m the Drew Petrie of the drinking world” 10. Leave Frankston for Taylors Lakes with a loving wife and a reputation. Well Done KING!!!
- Jordan Paris (Scary over the top guy from Australian Idol) = Moose Haley (Scary over the top guy lover from Long Island) - they both have in common their failure to achieve IDOL status anywhere!!! Have a nice trip Moose.

- Last Friday nights cards at WALLY'S house produced some of the greatest upsets in card history (Danny Gothard cue the Chappelle's Greatest Hook Ups in History voice please) – Firstly WALLY won and not small but big time – up to 1k... Must have been some good hands dealt cause he never bluffs when using the clubs funds as a starter!!! Pagga left early - a first ever. Tweeds didn't get his weeks wages or even bully Luke Ritchie into folding a winning hand – Luke didn't need any help as he lost everything including his long service leave in a 3 hour sitting. The highlight I'm informed was the return of the great Brandon Groves, a former junior champion who hasn't run with this field for a while... He left the night in reasonable form but learnt, unbelievable not from memory but from choice that sitting next to Luke - means banking Luke all night...
- Long Island CC Super Coach Update – Choccy Moose will meet Tom Batty in the LICC Super coach Grand Final after taking care of Rosso and Saga in comprehensive fashion. Let's hope for everyone's sake that Tom coaches better than he plays cards, otherwise it'll be a long year of bragging rights for the Moose. Premier League Super Coach is off and going with the MACDOUGALS the only undefeated team – great coaching – Only god knows where the lots of talking not much action teams of “ SHUT UR FA” and “ THE JOINT” will be coming when the long English winter arrives ...Not much thought went into the names either boys...
- Macca Vagg correspondence arrived this week with the highlights as follows; he's wet his bed twice, apparently once wasn't enough of an embarrassment as the mid 20s year old parties overseas – in direct correlation to this he hasn't really been successful with the opposite sex either – must be the sausage arms he possesses!!!! Although he did wake up one morning to a room mate trying to give him a hand – Macca – keep up the good work – GO BULLS in 2008.
- Barry Parsons unfortunately hasn't done anything RASH lately... we will let you know as soon as he does. Barry would it be fair to say that you've hit the wall!!! Keep up the good work.
- Justin Timberlake is always a favourite with the girls but this week - couldn't be happier to get tickets to JT was Luke Forsyth – apparently Luke was humming along to the new song and let out a massive squeal when it was confirmed tickers had been received!!! His Uncle Grant had to ask they question “Who is Justin Timberlake?” – What's going on out there?

- Whence driving home from training- PLEASE - stay out of the left and right turning lanes from Karingal drive into Cranbourne road as Lee Gage will be taking up both before tailgating an old lady, swerving to get out of the lane and speeding at 100 kmh along till McDonalds where he times it perfectly, swaps lanes again and gets stuck doing 30 kmh behind traffic. Take your anger out on the ground – that’s what FOOTBALL is for, actually stay in your car please. Another fine moment for Lee arrived on Thursday night at the club at post training he toddled out in lime green pants, a sky blue top with mini ugg boots – prompting 1 unpredicatbull to say “Ok who put the GAY into GAYge!!!” Laughs all round – keep up the great work Lee.
- Dale Chubb received a dose of the umpire’s medicine on Tuesday night at the tribunal when he copped 6 weeks for abusing an umpire. The tribunal passed comment on this when sentencing that as a former umpire Dale should be setting an example and should have known better, especially seeing he is the runner not a player!!! – Hear Hear. How times have changed – here’s a story about someone else who once also received 6 weeks but in startling different circumstances – Ricky Norman. Playing for Springvale at the Sandringham Ground – unhappy about an umpiring decision Rick torpedoed the ball out of the ground across beach road into the fish and chip shop directly across the way then walked straight off in disgust... At the slightly more jovial tribunal , when passing down the 6 week sentence, the Chairman passed comment that if Rick ever did this again - he should maybe place his fish and chip order on the ball in advance – to which the whole room erupted... True Story...
- Unpredicatbull has laid off Whitey for the week and taking aim at Kernadan – to his own demise long term. Although having a left foot is an advantage – one ever good right foot kick doesn’t make you ambidextrous. Also no wii from rebate money either should this unprovoked attacked continue – on a lighter note – where were all the people trying to shepherd thru the giant floater late in the last quarter???
- Joke of the Week: An Irish woman was admitted to hospital after having phone sex. Doctors removed 2 Nokias, 3 Motorolas and a Samsung. No Siemen was found. Boom Boom. Thanks to Ryan from Langwarrin.
- This is IT – the last home and away games for Season 2007 and hasn’t it flown by with 18 back to back games – its been a credit to all the staff involved for keeping the players up and going all year – more in Thank you’s and hopefully previews next week – enough talk. It’s delivery time, not only for the players but for the people who make the club tick – the true champions of the place – Come Saturday at 4.00 pm I’m confident we can look forward still in 2007 - remember
