Presidents Word

The time of reckoning has come for our club, this Sunday our senior team steps out for an opportunity to delve further into the Peninsula finals. My suspicion is that everyone is talking about our club as the wildcard, the one team they are not sure about because of the abundance of talent at our disposal. The only thing I see that is standing in our way of winning this final and more is our mental preparation for the battle. If we line ourselves up against the opposition we must believe we have more talent, we must believe we have more skill and we must believe we have more hunger for success. If we believe all of that there is nothing that will stop us from eliminating Edithvale from the finals race. I congratulate the players and coaching staff for making it this far and for what I know they will achieve over the next 4 weeks, this week is important make no mistake, however more glory is on offer if only we believe it! Also we need volunteers to help with the clean up on the following dates 9th, 15th, 16th, 23rd and 30th of September, help us out as many hand make light work.

Cheers Paul Groves.

1st SEMI FINAL

*“Now there's a lot more things to football, That really meets the eye
There are days when you could give it up, There are days when you could fly
You either love or hate it, Depending on the score
But when your team run out or they kick a goal, How's the mighty roar“ GO BULLS!!!!*

Okay we're a little bit excited but it has been a hell of a long wait for finals – and now something we can all ENJOY! Only 4 players and the water boy who now plays Centre Half Forward have survived the 6 years since the Bulls last progressed into the Post Season action... oops slow down let's get back to Last week at the Ballam Park... The Unders commenced the day against our neighbours the Pythons and must have been in a neighbourly mood as they allowed the Pythons to jump them in the first and trailed them out to a last quarter blow out 6 goals to 3. Better were Rosey, Hunty, Josh, Benny E and RBQ. 13 of the 21 kids are still eligible for Unders next year plus 3 kids playing higher – the foundation is there – lets make sure its sticks together to build the house. The Reserves played in an auspiciously mundane affair and managed to boot clear in the final term... Once again Micky Lindley, Chris Reichmann in the best and these 2 will fight for B&F Honours others including future star Big Benny Mitchell, Micks brother Chris and Dave Webster whose kicked on after a late start... The reserves missed final by % only and will be kicking themselves for some poorer efforts this year but only POSITIVES I can see with the 2s the heart and soul of the Club and this year it was beating strong. The Seniors had the ball on a string for the first 10 minutes didn't capitalise and paid for the missed opportunity trailing at ¼ time by 4 points. The Bulls then kicked up a gear, having 32 scoring shots to 14 after this to record a 54 point win – just what the Doctor ordered and no injuries to talk about - tough week at the selection table!!! The Best were Nesty, Lazarus Jencke, Pippy Phillips, Butthead Burke and Braithwaite Peckett... overall an even but smart performance – don't mention the goal kicking. It's now FINALS time and just the team things that have got us there will suffice... remember when we were 1 win 4 losses and everyone starting sh&t canning us!!! Now it's time to step UP and grab this opportunity – GO BULLS!!! Reminder The little Bulls this week will be playing their Grand Final at Langwarrin at 12.30 for anyone who can get there... The Under 12s bounced backed to reserve their spot and BEST WISHES are sent to them all... This WEEK is GO TIME..... GO BULLS!!!

The Rooms will be open on Sunday Night and the Juniors will be back to celebrate also so lets make sure we make it a massive night for ALL to enjoy win, lose or draw – even though a draw is not possible!!!

AROUND THE TRAPS

1. The BULLS are Winners already – well sort of... We've won the clean up duties this year as mentioned in the Presidents Word– Wally can get off the Defibrillator!! This means at every Premier League Final game and Nepean Grand Final at Frankston the club will require volunteers from approx 4 pm onwards to help clean up the rubbish... More hands make light work – Be there PLEASE!!!

2. Max's trip Away to Melbourne is a goer... Payment is now required... Please see Max – pretty sure he will follow you up!!! This only begs the question how much money will the Trip Away be receiving from Jackpot Joker this year? Oh the humanity!!!

Thank you to all the new sponsors for jumping on board, we hope you have some return for your investment and too the retained sponsors especially long termers – THANK YOU for your faith in the club. Coaches Report

We got off to a sluggish start against a determined Pines outfit however after half time we started to play the style of football expected of a top 4 side. In the end the final winning margin should have been greater, if only we could kick straight. To kick 17 goals 21 points is obviously poor kicking and will cost us in the finals. We need to steel ourselves to finish off the good work that has been done further down the field. Having said that, it was a good finish to the home & away season and to take out 3rd spot after our 1 & 4 start to the year means that we did a lot of good things throughout the year. Now the real stuff begins, the reason why we play footy is to play in finals. Congratulations to the 21 players who have the responsibility of representing the Karingal Football Club this weekend. This Sunday is our opportunity to show the football community that we are the real deal. Reputations of individuals, teams & clubs are built around finals performances. There is no next week, despite all we have done this year it will all come down 2 hours on Sunday. It's going to be a fight for survival, so embrace the challenge. Every player must come prepared to give absolutely everything they have got. If we can do that then at the very least we will have earned respect and maybe even an opportunity to go deeper into finals. What's that worth to you? What will you sacrifice for your team-mate on Sunday? 21 Bulls playing with KILLER INSTINCT who are HARD, ACCOUNTABLE, SELFLESS & PROUD. A formidable combination.

Coaches Report

The seconds finished of the year with a win which was great but wasn't enough to get us the finals spot we desperately wanted. I would like to thank a few people for their help and support during the year, apologies to anyone I forget to mention. Firstly Ronny McWilliams as team manager has been superb all year with paperwork, fruit and keeping Tweeds in line! Dale Chubb also was fantastic as my runner until getting rubbed out for 6 weeks in the last round! Thanks Chubby. Andrew Twedde as a assistant coach has run the bench all year and done a great job, with a few extra grey hairs! Jim Lark helped Tweeds on the sidelines for the second half of the year and was much appreciated. Also to Jacko, Pup, Digger and Bev for helping run the bench at different stages of the year. Lastly to the trainers and everyone else behind the scenes who helps field the team every week, thank you. Best of luck to the seniors for their finals campaign, lets get everyone possible down to Frankston to get our boys over the line. Go Bulls. The Flying Dog.

Coaches Report

Saturday personified our season, so close but yet so far...To the boys credit they always turned up for training, match days functions etc. For a bunch of young guys who came from far and wide to play no stage could I question their team spirit or camaraderie - something they should and the club should be extremely proud of.

To the boys - I would be extremely disappointed if you all were to not continue on next season as each one of you have made some massive advances with a number being in line for playing senior footy next year if you are prepared to work hard - McCoy, Quinn-Bartlett, Le Lievre and Martinson with a number of others capable also. As for the majority of the side who are still available for U18s next year make sure you get to preseason training and you will see just how far you all have advance from January 2007 - Great club - Exciting times so stick around and be involved.

THANK YOU

* Craig Shaw - Assistant Coach - Without Shawy always being there week in week out be it on a Saturday or Monday and Wednesday night I don't think the job could have been done - never asking for anything in return - Not sure what more a person has to do to achieve life membership - 150+ games retiring in 2003 after injury, premiership player and a person who has since retirement each year continued to be actively involved in the club and now has 17+ years of continued loyal service.

* Simon Drago - Runner - Again another person who always can be relied on and never asks for anything in return just wanting to help the club. Ralph Hallal - Team Manager - Week in week out had to organize all the things no one else ever wants to do and never complained. Mal Ritchie - Time keeper for every home and away game massive effort. Max Greenbury - always just a phone call away. Amanda, Hutch and all the trainers - always making themselves available for me and all the boys. Pup and the committee - For the support over the season. To all I have missed thank you all and without your assistance there would be no way the side would get out onto the ground each week. Wisha

The Social Report – The Roving Bull

Well this is it, the time of the year every footballer dreams about, and if you don't, you shouldn't be playing. To the blokes lucky enough to be playing, take the opportunity with both hands, there is no tomorrow for the Bulls come Sunday. Fingers crossed Roving will get the chance to write another piece this year, but reality is this may be the last column of the year. So I thought I would give a quick run down of 10 of Roving's favourite moments of 2007, let's start the countdown at number 10.

Roving's TOP 10 for 2007

10. First up is one of the most uncanny look-a-likes ever seen, Colin Hoad and Jamie from Big Brother! No need for an explanation, and doesn't big Col just love being called Jamie!
9. Has to be the unfortunate (for Justin) spotting of Bulls senior coach Justin Peckett lining up at the Chelsea RSL to see Daryl Braithwaite early in the year. Proved to be a source of amusement all year.
8. Back to School night saw Chris Hay (great supporter of Bulls all year) turn up as the spitting image of Augustus Gloop, the little fat German kid from Willy Wonka!
7. Jeff Walton doing a 'Warnie' half way through the year. No phone sex (bad luck Wal) but a change of citizenship. One small difference-Warnie is deferring to Germany, Wally applied for Brazil!
6. Brad 'Squashy' Clark comes in at 6. Numerous incidents push Squashy into the top 10, with his slips catching of his own regurgitation being a highlight. Also when asked by 2's coach to give two goals for a certain game Brad forgot his goals and handed them in on a used potato cake bag, which he demolished the contents of on the way to the game! All class Brad!
5. Michael Burke showing his 'old stager' status by falling asleep standing up on no less than 8 different occasions during the year! Records are meant to be broken Frumpy!!
4. The Pennisms have been a favourite of many during the year but the phone escapades of the great man have to take the cake. Hours of laughter at Penna's expense were had by the pranksters involved. If you can't remember the whole story see LVR, Butthead or Jacko for the full story, it's worth it!
3. Pit Dog Callahan comes in at number 3. The beauty of writing your own coaches report in the newsletter is that you can give yourself new nicknames that you actually like! After dominating the second half up forward against Chelsea and taking a screamer in the process, Pitty signed off his report with – The Flying Dog! Pure Gold Pitty.
2. The second spot on the list is taken by a rather cunning prank executed to perfection by a certain player. On arrival to the Chelsea away game word spread through the crowd early that Doug Scott had pulled out with an ankle injury. The prankster caught wind and told everyone within earshot that Doug had fallen off the ramp of the Ferry and into the ocean, injuring his ankle. Gullible supporters spread the word and soon the whole crowd was in amazement as to how this could happen! Another golden moment!

1. So here it is, number 1. And who else could this go to but Brokeback Barry Parsons!! Could have probably filled this whole segment but here is a breakdown...a) reported by goal umpire for jumping fence during game and pissing on spectators car, telling tribunal – “I was busting!” b) After forgetting his trusty tracky dacks, warmed up pre game in his old going out cords from 6 years ago! Fashion icon! C) Back to School night – drank Shandy’s (pot of half beer half lemonade) all night!! D) Had photo’s released of himself shirtless, with microphone singing on tables and doing one handed push ups at work x-mas party!

LATE BREAKING BR STORY

Brokeback Barry Parsons ordered a pack of doors last week to help finish off the barn he is building at Cannons Creek. Heard sprouting about how cheap they were, he was later a little disappointed that he had to pick them up from Wetherill Park NSW!! Luckily for Baz a quarter of Karingal footy club works for NP Distribution who got the goods brought down to Melbourne for the lowly price of a slab of Crownies. So appreciative of the great work by Jim Lark and the boys at NP, Barry decided that he would repay the favour by backing his trailer straight over the companies’ letter box out the front!! Don’t worry Baz, the cheque is in the mail! I’ m sure Roving has missed a couple but that is 10 classics from 2007. All the best to the boys this Sunday – GO BULLS!!! Bravo TRB!!! (Ed)

PENNISM

This weeks Pennism comes to us late – from a source who has admired all year from a distance the Pennisms and known the great man well, over a long period of time. This story is the epitome of the Penna Legend, – Enjoy. The Summer of Penna 1991-92 – a free spirit who was loving the high life of the Grand on Thursday Nights and Friday and Saturday – a much simpler time for all. Penna had only just started as a self employed painter and after realizing sleeping in his friends garage early in the morning pretending to be at work wasn't going to build his business – he negotiated what seemed was a reasonable rate to paint the current cricket coaches house – a reasonable sized house at 17 square but none the less a start. One coat, couple of weeks – no problems was the Penna's plan. Of course that's where the trouble started... 4 months later a happy Penna had pretty much moved into the house – why wouldn't he – it was summer and they had a pool. Highlights supplied by the owner include apart from the money blow out – he had negotiated getting paid an hourly rate – smart work by a smart man, as follows -

- 1) Penna learnt to cook for himself - unfortunately it wasn't his food.
- 2) Penna learnt to be cunning and devious - as the kid's sweets and lollies continually disappeared.
- 3) Penna learnt to swim! Any summer day over 26 degrees and we would find him sleeping comfortably on a deck chair beside the pool, after a leisurely dip , of course.

Well done Penna – my favourite part without doubt would be the coming home to see your painter swimming in your pool and you paying him for it... I could just imagine Penna's response – I've worked hard, I deserve a swim.

Footnote: A couple of months later the owner believed he was getting bad dandruff but nothing would clean it up – then he realized the ensuite paint was flaking and dropping down on him. He had to call out another painter who completed the whole job at a reasonable rate, on time and brought his own food. A M Wright Coatings – you beauty. THANKS to the source!!!

APOLOGY

To all at the Karingal FC,
Last week I committed an act which saw me reported for abusing an umpire.
I attended the tribunal and got 6 weeks, fair enough, do the crime you do the time.
The main thing that bothers me is that I have tarnished the name of the Karingal FC,
For that I would like to apologise to every person in the club.
Thank you, Dale Chubb

Karingal FC Song

*Cheer Cheer the Red and the White
Honour the Ks by day and by night
Lift that Karingal Banner High
Shakedown the THUNDER from the sky
Although the odds may seem great or small
The Ks will go out and win overall
For the Karingal Boys are Marching onwards to VICTORY
(Also at the end of each line a "Hey" certainly stirs the emotions)*

JUNIOR BULLS

Cheer Cheer the Red and the White Under 12 Bulls who are through to the big one, yep they into the Grand Final. Cruising home in the preliminary final by 3 goals the young men in the Under 12's took control after a tight first half. The scores were level at the main break and this was mainly due to our overuse of the dead wing which suited the opposition who were keen to nullify our attacking game. In the second half we played our style and led by a goal at the last change. Coming home with the breeze we toyed with them in the last quarter and the game was over well before the final siren.

Final Scores Karingal 8-6-54 Carrum P/Lakes 5-6-36

Goal kickers - Zac Brasier 4, Liam Bennett 2, Chris Matthews 2

Best players - Riki Seaton-Clarke, Zac Brasier, Chris Matthews, Beau Lawrence, Ryan Barca, Zac Clements.

Grand Final is this Sunday at 12:30 Langwarrin oval 2. Get down and support the kids before heading off the SENIORS. Good luck to the little guys and good luck to big fellas too.

Go little BULLS

THE LAST WORD

- AFL – Where to start? The obvious ones... Condolences to all Tiger Supporters on winning the wooden spoon but unfortunately not the No. 1 Draft Pick – What a Silly system??? At least they can't whinge about finishing 9th and being the best side out of the 8...They stank. The Blues are only mildly better but resting key players for the last 8 games in preparation for Season 2008 is a master stroke by Coach Ratten... It worked for the Roos who unbelievably finished 4th and now face off against the unbackable and unbearable Cats... One can only dream of a Kangaroo victory and the balance of power shifting in the Kellerman house... not likely. After checking and re checking I'm still not sure who the saints are playing this week... Telstra must be having massive problems as Weary, Gagey, Jacko, Oz, Moose and all the goon squad haven't even mentioned football over the weekend but couldn't wipe the smile of Collingwood supporters faces and they Lost... funny game football. It's going to get very interesting September...
- Seems Troy Hoad missing a few weeks with injury has only heightened his enthusiasm for the game. Apparently Saturday night Troy was removed from trendy nightspot Daveys (the Cattle yard as termed by former veteran Tony Dennis) for handballing a glass pot across the bar. When being removed he simply commented to the security " Hey mate I'm training for finals" Unfortunately the exit door was shown proving once again that Hoady still has to learn to play four quarters or last a whole night. Thank you to the whole Hoad Family for their ability every week to make us smile with them...
- The Moose lost the Long Island CC Super Coach Grand Final but was quick to congratulate the worthy winner and quote his score was quite amazing. Well done Moose – dignity in losing is winning itself. God I think I'm going to be sick.
- Saturday Night Poker and the Final table included all the best players again proving cream rises to the top. Tweeds = great organizer but terrible player – patience is required. The most patient human being on earth in Botto who WON the tournament outlasting big Taz in a fine display...Once again though the night was taken over by Last Word Champion LUKE RITCHIE who after a marital dispute walked the whole 6km to the club only to remember he had no money and could NOT use the club eftpos machine for fear of punishment when the statement comes in 3 months time... Who's wearing the pants?
- Friday night shenanigans when some of the boys got together in Langwarrin... A pleasant drink turned into a long, longer, longest session with a 6.30 am finish. This wouldn't be news worthy but when the Unders runner had to be at the club in 2 hours we believe this changes it all. Lucky the senior runner was able to get some sleep in and forget about Jacko who woke the partner for a lift at 6.30 in the morning only to be reminded he lives 4 doors away... Well done boys, Bravo. Late news Simmo woke up at home on Saturday and was trying to figure out how Tugga and Jacko's clothes were still there but the people weren't? I'll leave that too the imagination...

- Ralph Hallal Follow up – AKA Sir Bolte Bridge – was delivered more bad news this week in reference to last weeks drunken adventure, amazing that it always seems to come back to haunt you. Ralph’s Brother (the good footballer Joe – don’t even get me started on Karingal V Seaford brothers) fiancés parents apparently got more than they bargained for when the saw Ralph urinating off the Bolte Bridge nearly naked, just to add to his family shame. His Mum’s comment “ Ralph you are banned from drinking at your brothers wedding” Mrs Hallal – This is all well and good in hindsight but what about 20 years ago banning Ralph from Garlic Souvlaki... Remember King the only way is up... even when you’re on your knees!!!
- Last week overheard some very disappointed trainers talking about some of the players efforts – off ground that is. Seems the final straw was a player who spends all day on the bench when playing, never trains then drinks all day when not selected. Its not you either GAYgey... What about chipping in and running water or doing interchange – Football Clubs are a 2 way street – can’t be only taking. Players make sure YOU remember you can’t pick and choose how people remember you.
- A Remorseful Chubby has posted an apology for his actions – abusing an umpire cost him 6 weeks and the chance for the RUNNERS award at the Bull Pit or “the PETER MAC BARKER Award” after the clubs most professional runner – who is being sadly missed this year. After last Friday Nights effort by the other 2 runners we have virtually ended up by default or Steven Bradbury’d the award to substitute 2nds runner Jeff Walton – who is telling everyone he was wearing 4 shirts last week, that's why he looked so bulky!!!
- 2008 isn’t even in the mind but it’s hard not to be excited by the injection of youth that could carry the BULLS for years to come. Under 18s who have played in the Seniors this year include Tim Smith, Ryan Barnett, Grant Goodall, Todd Farrelly, David Hirst, Luke Adams, Aaron Guy with Benny Mitchell a late inclusion impressing in the later half of the year. Throw in 1st year out player Alan Williams and back bone of the BULLS is looking might sturdy... its not too late to get involved for 2008, see Pup or Wally for more details on the committee...
- Joke of the Week: Rod Butters (The Money) + Tim Hirst (The Hair – see top right end photo) = SAINTS BRAINS TRUST – Boom Boom!!!
- Come On this is it... time to enjoy the September Sunshine and show the Peninsula what we are about... There are no second chances come Sunday @ 2pm and all the Red and White army will be required...Lets respect the opposition and the opportunity we have...

GO BULLS
